WENDY WALTON— BREAKFAST FOOD JUNKY

Wendy Walton loves breakfast food. In fact, the mere thought of starting her day without a big bowl of breakfast food would be like a day without sunshine. She has a bowl, too, each day right after school. Wendy has her favorites, but she also likes a variety. So she makes sure she takes an inventory each time her mom goes to the grocery store. She is very systematic in the way she rotates her "Top 6." Based on the clues provided below, decide her breakfast food schedule for the next week.

She starts every school week off with Bran Chex.

Three days after Bran Chex, she has Fritos for breakfast.

Saturday mornings she has the same breakfast food as she has on Tuesday afternoons.

The morning before eating Bran Chex, Wendy has Sugar Sweet Flakes.

She has Krispers in the afternoon on the day after she has Bran Chex for breakfast.

Weekend afternoons are reserved for Peanut Butter Flutters

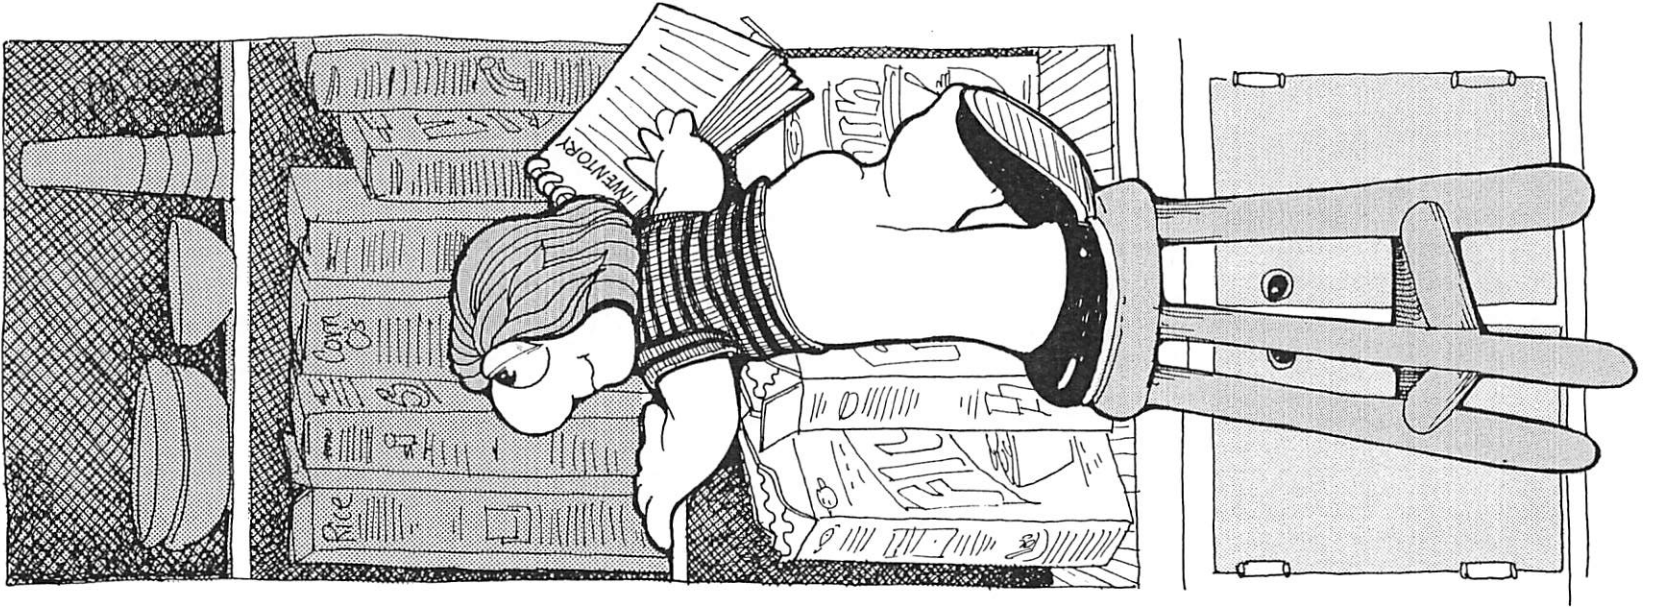

The morning before Fritos, Wendy has Whamos.

Friday's breakfast is the same as Monday's after-school treat—which is the same as Wednesday's breakfast.

Tuesday's breakfast is the same as her weekend snack.

Wednesday and Friday's after-school snack is the same as Monday's breakfast.

Thursday's after-school snack is the same as her breakfast.

Shaped like a "J,"
The air I can reach;
I help you to swim
In the sea by the beach.

With witch I'm a snack,
A good lunchtime treat;
Alone at the beach
I might burn your feet.

A part of a meal,
A vector, a heading;
Can you find your way
With the clues you are getting?

The maker of pickles,
A kind of shrimp, too;
I taste kind of salty,
Does that give a clue?

MYSTERY WORDS

There are four words surrounding each box that look very much alike. In fact, there is a word that goes in the box itself that can be formed by changing only one letter in any of the surrounding words. See if you can figure out the mystery word that belongs in each box. Remember, the word you place in the box must contain all the letters that are in each of the surrounding words except one. Notice the example to the right which is already done for you.
